THE COMMITTEE ON HOTELS.

An Exhaustive Report Submitted—The Necessity for Securing Lower Passenger Rates—Miscellaneous.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce met yesterday afternoon, First Vice-president Henry Lindsey in the chair, and Messrs. Wells, Book and Book present.

The secretary read a number of letters from surrounding towns favoring Los Angeles as the place for the holding of the citrus fair.

A letter from J. W. Northup of the New York Sun, offering to write a page about Los Angeles, was read, and the secretary instructed to reply that the citizens might subscribe for the 60,000 issue.

A letter from Warren L. Knox, secretary of the Boston Fruit and Produce Dealers' Exchange, thanking the chamber for its invitation to visit Los Angeles, was read and filed.

A resolution endorsing L. E. Mercer as an electric man and one of the best in the county at the World's Fair was adopted.

Mr. Wells moved that President E. W. Jones be requested to withhold his resignation until the end of his term. Carried.

The following report from the Hotel Committee was read and the committee given a vote of thanks.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON HOTELS.

To the Board of Directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce—GENTLEMEN:

Your Committee on Hotels begs leave to report that it has interviewed the proprietors of the leading hotels in the city, and finds that they are well patronized by Eastern tourists, who state that the good favoring of Southern California exists in the East, and that many would come here to spend their winters away from the cold, instead of going to Florida, if the railway transportation for California was as low as it has been to Florida. The East rates to that country are taking a large number of people there this season, and some effort should be made to obtain at least a temporary reduction in rates to Los Angeles.

The commercial travelers are here in larger numbers than at any time in the history of the city. This is an evidence of the increased prosperity of this locality.

The family boarding hotels of the city are much more crowded, located at convenient points throughout the city, and in this excellent manner in which they are conducted they are attracting the attention of Eastern tourists, many of whom state that they intend to spend their winters in them and enjoy the pleasures of the regions of cayucos and seashore.

In relation to the reduction of fares to Los Angeles the following letter has been received:

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25.
To the Secretary of Chamber of Commerce, Los Angeles City—Sir:—While on a visit East last summer I saw crowds at the depots in Cincinnati and St. Louis buying Southern California tickets, and these were no excursion rates to California, at least for first-class travelers; they said that one person could buy a ticket at the same rate one hundred could buy a ticket, and I have since seen a letter from Capt. Ennis of Chicago asking the same thing. Now is this right? Can not your honorable body do something to remedy this? I know you will try.

The great need of Southern California, in my humble opinion, is cheaper rates—that is, first-class rates. Is there not the very few strangers are coming to California just now? Talk with the new arrivals and you will learn they have been here before and have some holdings to look after, the reason they have remained.

I will make a following suggestion: Will not the Chamber of Commerce use their influence to get a half-rate first-class fare to Southern California for the month of January, 1891, and will they (the Chamber of Commerce) assist the railroads in advertising these rates. I believe they will do it if it strikes them as the right thing. I therefore request that you consider this matter at your next meeting, and sincerely trust that you will take the right and establish such rates as will induce travel to our delightful country.

Yours very respectfully, W. F. GILL.

J. Ennis, traveling passenger agent of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company at Chicago, in a letter to Mrs. N. H. Cratty of Los Angeles, says:

"The present rates offer no inducement for parties of one person can purchase a ticket as cheap as a hundred. This has a decided disincentive for going. Under the regulations of the International Association of Foreign Excursions inducements were held out for parties of fifty or more. Parties who are compelled to go to California in order to secure a low rate induced many to go with them, and consequently the railroads lost money. In my opinion we will never have a large business to California again until the old plan is substituted for the present one. We are now having a large and increasing business to Mexico."

In another letter to the same lady, Mr. Ennis states that—

"Formerly railroad rates were so adjusted that parties of ten or more could secure a reasonable reduction. As an example of California's reduction, when the rates for the round trip were $100, parties of ten could secure a rate of, say, $50, a party of fifty or more a rate of $80. This was the cause of my getting large parties running from 100 to 1000, to join my excursions. The present one was taken from the railroads, so you can secure for large numbers and no individual parties out for excursions. I believe the only chance for you is to go where you are known and get up parties for Mexico."

The Ocean Bazaar of Marion County, Fla., gave notice of the securing of special rates to Florida.

"On May 1 the president of the Bureau of Immigration of that State commenced a systematic correspondence with prominent railroad officials with a view of ascertaining the present immigration and reduction of rates to actual immigrants from the different points of the United States to Florida."

TELL THE STORY TO THE WORLD.

Valuable Facts About the Southern Country for Circulation.

THE TIMES will, within the next few days, publish a second edition of, 15,000 copies of the supplement of Sunday last, containing Charles Dudley Warner's article from Harper's Magazine on "Our Italy," and also his later sketch, from the December Harper, entitled "The Winter of Our Content." The regular edition of over 8000 copies has already been circulated, but the demand for extra copies has been sufficient to justify this special issue, of which 8000 more copies have already been ordered. Orders are now being received at the business office of THE TIMES, and by mail, for copies of this special edition at the rate of $1.50 per 100, or $15 per 1000. Citizens are requested to send in orders, as no more valuable literature than this article, descriptive of Southern California, can be disseminated. Advertisements for this special edition will be received, if handed in at the counting room by Saturday night.

SENATOR QUAY has been found in Florida by a newspaper reporter, to whom he was willing to talk about his tarpon fishing, but not about his whaling.

This local political ghost-dancers will have to stop operations and get in on the municipal reservation. P. G. "Grub" is getting scarce out in the sage-brush and ratiom-day neath.

THE TIMES is published a loud call for a land bowl about something or other at Hazard's Pavilion tonight. Let the populace assemble, and then will some sane citizen erect himself to a perpendicular and ask, "What are we here for, M. President?"

THE NEW YORK PRESS is disposed to point, not to say personal:

If C. P. Huntington and Senator Leland Stanford, who are on their way to New York, are informed by telegraph (of course) intended as reported, to transfer their quarrel to this city, the Press advises them to turn around and go back to the Pacific Coast. We have quarrels enough of our own to look after without importing any more from California or elsewhere.

Will not the Press consent to receive a consignment of Los Angeles municipal ghost-dancers and things?

THE SACRAMENTO Bee discredits the reported conversion of Mrs. Leland Stanford to the Catholic faith. It says:

Inquiry of Ariel Lathrop, Mrs. Stanford's brother, in San Francisco, failed to elicit any information on the subject other than that the report is unfounded. Archbishop Riordan knows nothing of the reported conversion, but thinks that he would have known of it if there were any facts to substantiate it.

Whether true or false be the report, we presume that society will be able to make arrangements to go on.

NOT much is heard nowadays of the Nicaragua canal enterprise, but it must not be thought that work there is at a standstill. Work on the improvement of the harbor is progressing rapidly and five of the large Slavin dredgers, such as were used on the Panama canal, have arrived. The health of the workmen is remarkably good and the whole enterprise is said to give evidence of the most careful foresight and supervision.

LIVERPOOL has a street system which might be copied with advantage by some of our American cities. No objection is made to the tearing up of the thoroughfares for an actually necessary purpose, but when it is done the repairs are made by the municipality at the expense of the person or corporation which did the tearing up. As a consequence the work is well done, and no permanent injury results to the pavement. Excellent roadbeds are secured by laying stone blocks on a solid foundation of concrete and then filling the interstices with hot asphaltum, thus making the pavement impervious to water.

MISPLACED mercy toward savages has been a fruitful source of trouble to the American people and has cost many precious lives. It was this mistake in taking renegade Apaches back into the folds at San Carlos, after they had been murdering and ravaging, that caused most of the repeated outbreaks in Arizona. The deportation of Geronimo and his band did more to insure peace in that section than any other effort ever made by the Government. Sitting Bull is another instance of misplaced mercy. Had he been punished for his crimes, as he deserved, it is quite possible that we should have escaped the present troubles, in which he appears to be a prime mover.

MAYOR HAZARD, THE CITY AND THE PEOPLE.

Henry T. Hazard should be reelected Mayor of Los Angeles next Monday. The public interest requires it; the merit of the man justifies it, and the city's necessities demand it.

Why? Because he has made a good chief executive, and it is neither right nor safe to attempt a change. One term well ended, let another be begun under the same auspices and with the same man at the head of the city government. So will the logic of events be followed out, and the merit of honest and able service be rewarded.

Review the main facts, the leading events of Mr. Hazard's administration and see whether our claim for him is not fully borne out:

He has stood for honesty and economy in city affairs. He has interposed his veto upon the acts of a careless, reckless or an extravagant Council whenever it was necessary to protect the interests of the people.

He has stood between jobbers, corruptionists and cunning manipulators on the one side and the public treasury on the other.

He took a strong, determined, law-supported and just stand in favor of the city's right to handle the public moneys voted to the treasury by the people, and to have the revenues therefrom accrue to her and not to banks or private individuals.

The executive department under him has given the corporation an era of peace and comfort; it has suppressed crime, gambling, robbery, theft and disoluteness more completely than has any previous administration; has reformed and improved the police department with the aid of commissioners who have acted with the Mayor; and has regulated the saloons, forcing them to obey the ordinances and to pay their licens.

The Mayor himself has stood resolutely for high license from the very beginning of the agitation for that reform, and stands for its maintenance today. He is, moreover, right on the Sunday-closing question, as his recent message shows, criticise it as you may; for, like the loyal fellow that he is, he declared in that message, in good faith, that he waived his personal opinions on the subject and accepted the vote of the people for Sunday closing as the law of the case. "The will of the people is the law of the land" was the sentiment of the first citizen of the Republic; and Henry T. Hazard has shown himself equally loyal to the command of the people in the city of his home. He cannot justly be assailed for his last message, that he waived his personal opinions on the subject and accepted the vote of the people for Sunday closing as the law of the case.

THE MOUNT WILSON RAILROAD

is Likely to Be Built Soon—Notes and Comment—A Batch of Brevities—Locals.

The statement published in yesterday's TIMES relating to the proposed early extension of the San Gabriel Valley Rapid Transit road to the summit of Wilson's Peak, was naturally read with interest by Pasadenaans. The petition now before the Council for a right-of-way would seem to bear it out.

Several gentlemen of town who are well-posted on matters pertaining to the road, say that the prediction that the road will be built to the top of the mountain inside of fifteen months will prove true. The execution of the project will be of inestimable benefit to Pasadena. With a hotel on the peak and railway communication therewith, Pasadena will be the starting point for, probably, the finest railway ascent in the world, and it will grow and prosper accordingly.

With direct connection with some seaport town the tourist will in winter be able in a day to enjoy both a winter and a summer climate; he can take a comfortable salt water bath in the morning and throw snowballs in the afternoon. What other country can boast of such varied attractions?

NOTES AND COMMENT.

It is to be hoped that the society for the extension of University teaching will organize a branch in this part of the country. The purpose of the society is to bring some of the advantages of university teaching and of systematically directed study within the reach of those who cannot go to college, and especially of those who are occupied in daily tasks and must work out their education for themselves. The system is capable of indefinite development and of doing a vast amount of good. The society is growing rapidly in the East, but as yet has done nothing on the Pacific coast. The nearest approach we have to it are the Chautauqua circles, but it is impossible for them to cover the same general field.

* * *

A noted physician pays high tribute to Pasadena's climate and favored situation. He says it is one of the best places in the world for consumptives, and admits that for a large class of patients it is far more beneficial than the much-boasted climate of Colorado; and this in fact of the fact that he is a Colorado man himself.

* * *

The news comes straight from headquarters that the San Gabriel company will build a road up Wilson's Peak within the next fifteen months. Nothing better could happen to Pasadena.

* * *

The Cross road is doing a big business. The morning and evening trains are crowded.

* * *

Splendid weather for horseback riding and all forms of outdoor exercise.

* * *

The nights are growing cooler. Cheery hearth fires are in order.

BREVITIES.

Rev. Dr. Trew was up from San Gabriel yesterday.

The Star House has been located on West Union street.

Crown Chapter enjoyed another banquet at the Acme last night.

Nearly all the new station-houses on the Cross road are under roof.

City Clerk Campbell's letters are now addressed with U. S. Grant prefix.

Company B went to Los Angeles yesterday evening and participated in a battalion drill.

The Cross Road Station Park should be better lighted. On a dark night it is hard to find the paths.

Mr. and Mrs. Bolles arrived in town yesterday. They contemplate remaining here during the winter.

Gov.-elect Markham went to Santa Monica yesterday instead of on Thanksgiving, as before announced.

Rev. Dr. Chichester of Los Angeles, will preach in the Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Marshall Wotkins gave a picnic party to a few friends in Wilson's Cañon Thanksgiving day.

Tickets are selling well for the entertainment to be given to-night in the Opera-house by the local dramatic club.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gates returned from a short wedding trip Thursday evening. They will make their residence on Arcadia street.

The Cross road train leaving Los Angeles at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon had three cars filled with passengers. Business is rapidly increasing.

At a meeting of the Board of Trade held yesterday morning, a resolution was passed to the effect that Los Angeles is the place to hold the State election.

Lieut. Hamilton has received an invitation for Company B to attend a hop to be given next Thursday evening.

W. B. Tullis, watchmaker, 402 South Spring street. Watches cleaned for $1.50.

The Thanksgiving number of the Youth's Companion contains a well-written story by John F. Barnes of this place, entitled "Cy and the Baar." Mr. Barnes is a contributor to several magazines. The article referred to is highly illustrated.

The Valley Hunt will hold a meet to-day. The riders will meet at 9 o'clock at the intersection of Orange Grove avenue and Columbia street, and will hence move in the direction of the Puente Hills. Lunch will be served at 12 o'clock at the Mareno ranch, below the Raymond.

A meeting of the Charity Organization Society was held yesterday afternoon in the case of Edwards Hoffman, the bricklayer, who was so seriously injured by a fall from the Stanton House some weeks ago and whose family are in destitute circumstances, was taken under consideration. Mr. Masters was appointed to investigate and report upon it. No other business of importance was brought up.

HIGH TRIBUTE

To Pasadena's Climate by One Who Knows.

Among the recent visitors in town was Dr. Solly of Colorado Springs, a physician of considerable note. Dr. Solly has made a special study of climatology as applied to pulmonary diseases. On this his first visit to Pasadena, he expressed himself as highly pleased with the climate. He regards the situation of the town as exceptionally good and went so far as to say he believes it to be one of the best places for consumptives in the country. A large class of patients who cannot stand the climate of Colorado, he says, would be benefited here. Dr. Solly is soon to write a book on matters climatological for a large publishing firm in Philadelphia.

A Thanksgiving Hop.

Over a score of Pasadena's young people were present at the Hotel San Gabriel hop Thanksgiving evening.

The ball-room was crowded with gay throng of dancers, who tripped the light fantastic until long after midnight. The music and refreshments were both excellent, and the guests departed highly pleased with the evening.

The hop was given by Manager H. R. Warner.

Want More Like It.

The Athletic Club management have received many hearty congratulations over the successful manner the sports were conducted on Thanksgiving. The patronage was so liberal that after all the bills have been paid, including the expense of laying the track, a balance of $50 will remain in the treasury. It is to be hoped that a series of similar exhibitions will be given during the month.

Government bonds were steady.

THE PEOPLES STORE.

The Approaching Close of Our Business Year.

A RUSHING TRADE IN NOVEMBER

PEOPLE'S STORE.

Saturday, Nov. 29, 1890.

There are only two more days to the month and we will be dashing along down the last step of our business year. Already this month has seen more sales and November's business yet to do by us, and we are working hard to place our little market for nothing higher than it has ever been. We are November to shine forth on our books among the galaxy of months in bold, striking figures as an evidence of what push and right goods at proper prices do. In order to increase the month's sales as much as possible we have placed on sale today the contents of two cases of 12¢ and 15¢ Flannelled in light and medium colors for the extremely low price of 9¢ per yard, and two cases of double-fold fancy-striped Ladies' Cloth in perfectly beautiful coloring and patterns at the unheard-of figure of $1.95 for a 10-yard dress length of your own selection; almost 100 patterns to select from. These 100 great offerings hold good for today and Monday, yet we advise your early attendance to secure a choice.

Our great drug sale still continues in full force.

TELL THE STORY TO THE WORLD.
Valuable Facts About the Southern Country for Circulation.

THE TIMES will, within the next few days, publish a second edition of 15,000 copies of the supplement of Sunday last, containing Charles Dudley Warner's article from Harper's Magazine on "Our Italy," and also his later sketch, from the December Harper, entitled "The Winter of Our Content." The regular edition of over 8000 copies has already been circulated, but the demand for extra copies has been sufficient to justify this special issue, of which 8000 more copies have already been ordered. Orders are now being received at the business office of THE TIMES, and by mail, for copies of this special edition at the rate of $1.50 per 100, or $15 per 1000. Citizens are requested to send in orders, as no more valuable literature than this article, descriptive of Southern California, can be disseminated. Advertisements for this special edition will be received, if handed in at the counting room by Saturday night.

SENATOR QUAY has been found in Florida by a newspaper reporter, to whom he was willing to talk about his tarpaulin feather, but not about his whaling.

The local political ghost-dancers will have to stop operations and get in on the municipal reservation p. q. "Grub" is getting scarce out in the sage-brush and ration-day neareath.

THE TIMES is published a loud call for a land howl about something or other at Hazard's Pavilion tonight. Let the populace assemble, and then will some sane citizen erect himself to a perpendicular and ask, "What are we here for, M. President?"

The New York Press is disposed to be pointed, not to say personal:

M. C. P. Huntington and Senator Leland Stanford, who are on their way to New York from California (by separate routes, of course), intend, as reported, to transfer their quarrel to this city, the Press advises them to turn around and go back to the Pacific Coast, and then to turn around of our own to look after without importing any more from California or elsewhere.

Will not the Press consent to receive a consignment of Los Angeles municipal ghost-dancers and things?

THE SACRAMENTO Bee discredits the reported conversion of Mrs. Leland Stanford to the Catholic faith. It says:

A family of Arial Lathron, Mrs. Stanford's brother, in San Francisco, failed to elicit any information on the subject other than that the report is discredited. Archbishop Riordan knows nothing of the alleged conversion, but thinks that he would have known of it if there were any facts to substantiate it.

Whether true or false be the report, we presume that society will be able to make arrangements to go on.

NOT much is heard nowadays of the Nicaragua canal enterprise, but it must not be thought that work there is at a standstill. Work on the improvement of the harbor is progressing rapidly and five of the large Slavin dredgers, such as were used on the Panama canal, have arrived. The health of the workmen is remarkably good and the whole enterprise is said to give evidence of the most careful foresight and supervision.

LIVERPOOL has a street system which might be copied with advantage by some of our American cities. No objection is made to the tearing up of the thoroughfares for an actually necessary purpose, but when it is done the repairs are made by the municipality at the expense of the person or corporation which did the tearing up. As a consequence the work is well done, and no permanent injury results to the pavement. Excellent roadbeds are secured by laying stone blocks on a solid foundation of concrete and then filling the interstices with hot asphaltum, thus making the pavement impervious to water.

MISPLACED mercy toward savages has been a fruitful source of trouble to the American people and has cost many precious lives. It was this mistake in taking renegade Apaches back into the folds at San Carlos, after they had been murdering and ravaging, that caused most of the repeated outbreaks in Arizona. The deportation of Geronimo and his band did more to insure peace than that section than any other effort ever made by the Government. Sitting Bull is another instance of misplaced mercy. Had he been punished for his crimes, as he deserved, it is quite possible that we should have escaped the present troubles, in which he appears to be a prime mover.

MAYOR HAZARD, THE CITY AND THE PEOPLE.

Henry T. Hazard should be reelected Mayor of Los Angeles next Monday. The public interest requires it; the merit of the man justifies it, and the city's necessities demand it.

Why? Because he has made a good chief executive, and it is neither right nor safe to attempt a change. One term well ended, let another be begun under the same auspices and with the same man at the head of the city government. So will the logic of events be followed out, and the merit of honest and able service be rewarded.

Review the main facts, the leading events of Mr. Hazard's administration and see whether our claim for him is not fully borne out:

He has stood for honesty and economy in city affairs. He has interposed his veto upon the acts of a careless, a reckless or an extravagant Council whenever it was necessary to protect the interest of the people.

He has stood between jobbers, corruptionists and cunning manipulators on the one side and the public treasury on the other.

He took a strong, determined, law-supported and just stand in favor of the city's right to handle the public moneys voted into the treasury by the people, and to have the revenue therefrom accrue to her and not to banks or private individuals.

The executive department under him has given the corporation an era of peace and comfort; it has suppressed crime, gambling, robbery, theft and dissoluteness more completely than has any previous administration; has reformed and improved the police department with the aid of commissioners who have acted with the Mayor; and has regulated the saloons, forcing them to obey the ordinances and to pay their license.

The Mayor himself has stood resolutely for high license from the very beginning of the agitation for that reform, and stands for its maintenance today. He is, moreover, right on the Sunday-closing question, as his recent message shows, criticise it as you may, for like the loyal fellow that he is, he declared in that message, in good faith, that he waived his personal opinions on the subject and accepted the vote of the people for Sunday closing as the law of the case. "The will of the people is the law of the land" was the sentiment of the first citizen of the Republic; and Henry T. Hazard has shown himself equally loyal to the command of the people in the city of his home. He cannot justly be assailed for his last message to the Council; and when his position is understood, the friends of the reform which has just been inaugurated cannot fairly oppose him. The Sunday-closing ordinance will become the law of the municipality, and the mass of citizens, including men of all parties, And such, we prophesy, will be the case at the polls next Monday.

THE GHOST-DANCE IN POLITICS.

On every hand there seems to be a gathering of strange tribes, and an emissary who has been sent out by this able and instructive family newspaper to see what it all means reports that we are in for a ghost-dance that will make the Indian fundango of that character, in Dakota, seem like a shindig over in dogtown.

Strange bands have been for some time forming in various parts of the country, and their movement seems to be entirely in the direction of Washington, the home of the Great White Father, who, according to Puck, wears his grandfather's hat.

Kansas, that State of big prairies, blizzards and dry seasons, has turned loose the biggest and most sanguinary-looking tribe in the person of the Farmer's Alliance; but there is also an uprising report in Illinois which bodes no good to the political peace of the country. It is reported that there an entire tribe has broken loose from its agency and is now joining the ranks of some strange political Messiah whose identity will hardly develop before 1892.

In Wisconsin and Michigan great bodies were seen early in this month moving toward the East with their war-paint on, and when closely questioned said they were going to join the ghost-dance. When asked what their grievance was, they complained of shortness of rations and that they proposed to run a bluff on the White Father and his henchmen that would cause a greater output for the horny-handed son of toil.

Even in our own State there are traces of the same disquieting element which is personified in the tribe of Nationalists. They were led when they started out in their paint and feathers, in this immediate section, by a chief who was the very glass of fashion and the mold of form. He wore a dude cane and patent-leather shoes, and his name was Wilshire. It has recently been reported, however, that he has broken away from his old associates and gone with a young squaw to swell the ranks of a still more cardinal complexioned tribe across the big water.

In addition to this small but busy band of freebooters and prospective ghost-dancers, there was recently a meeting at San José of another band of warriors who were said to be about to move toward the place of the ghost-dance, and we have reason to believe that this report is accurate. They will find the new Messiah, or know the reason why. Their movements are looked upon with considerable alarm by the political powers which hope to be "in it" two years from now.

What next? Who else has entered the arena of local combat? What strange, unnatural alliance has been formed to defeat the man who has proven so strong with the masses as to strike terror to the hearts of political conspirators and adventurers? Why, the dimmed Illinois Hall patriots, to be sure! The precious gang headed by that political turncoat and impudent adventurer, Ralph E. Hoyt, and followed by the impracticals, the Prohibitionists and the cranks generally. These unbalanced people, repenting of their one sane and sensible act, the original disengagement of Hazard, have turned against him and elevated in his place that buck-number Democratic Bourbon, J. Shirley Ward! But this act of retrogression was accomplished by a "rump congress," and only after the Committee of One Hundred had been overthrown by revolutionary processes. That committee was composed largely of substantial citizens, and, left to its own devices and deliberations, would have taken such political action as would at least have been entitled to respect. But it has been disrupted, its autonomy torn asunder, and the little end of it appears to be doing all the business, or at least making all the noise, yelling for Ward and "them offices."

Taken altogether, the situation is extremely grave, but it is hoped that the old organized forces may be able to put on such a show of power as to quiet down the restless political red-skins, who would prey upon "them offices."

The friends of the late Senator John P. Miller—and they are many—will regret to learn of the serious illness of his widow at her residence, on Connecticut avenue, Washington, D. C., which she reached about a month ago from her country home in Napa Valley. Her daughter, Mrs. Clover, who traveled East with her, is attending at her bedside.

These various predatory bands are now down in the willows going through a ghost-dance, which makes the situation somewhat Hazardous, and the settlers are moving away from that region with a great deal of alacrity and light baggage.

Taken altogether, the situation is extremely grave, but it is hoped that the old organized forces may be able to put on such a show of power as to quiet down the restless political red-skins, who would prey upon "them offices."

Meanwhile, however, the real Committee of One Hundred—the solid level-headed citizens who went into that side movement—are steadily supporting Mr. Hazard. They have his name upon their tickets and will make themselves felt at the polls.

The Illinois Hall contingent may bushwhack between the lines, but as to the main battle, they will not be "in it."

One other element, or alleged element, remains to be mentioned. That is the Y. M. P. & I. p., which has "come out" for Al Ling. The price of the new alphabetical party's endorsement of the Democratic candidate is not stated, nor is it known how the "swag" has been or is to be divided; nor what reasons have been presented to the Republican young men in the new party why they should be mustered into the Democratic ranks upon the shallow pretense that they are thus aiding in a "progress" and "reform" movement. Let these young men do their own thinking for themselves, and their good sense will teach them to steer clear of the dominions of Mandarin Ling on election day.

Since the above was written Mayor Hazard should be reelected Mayor of Los Angeles next Monday. The public interest requires it; the merit of the man justifies it, and the city's necessities demand it.

Why? Because he has made a good chief executive, and it is neither right nor safe to attempt a change. One term well ended, let another be begun under the same auspices and with the same man at the head of the city government. So will the logic of events be followed out, and the merit of honest and able service be rewarded.

Review the main facts, the leading events of Mr. Hazard's administration and see whether our claim for him is not fully borne out:

He has stood for honesty and economy in city affairs. He has interposed his veto upon the acts of a careless, a reckless or an extravagant Council whenever it was necessary to protect the interest of the people.

He took a strong, determined, law-supported and just stand in favor of the city's right to handle the public moneys voted into the treasury by the people, and to have the revenue therefrom accrue to her and not to banks or private individuals.

SETTLERS SUFFER.

Abandoned Houses Pillaged by the Indians.

Agent Royer at Pine Ridge Receives a Threatening Message.

The Town of Pierrepont, S. D., Reported to Have Been Burned.

Sitting Bull Urges His Braves to Quicken Their Step—A Skirmish Anticipated at Pine Ridge.

By Telegraph to The Times.

OMAHA, Nov. 28.—[By the Associated Press.] A Bee Pine Ridge special says: This afternoon a friendly Indian came in to Agent Royer with the rather startling report that over two thousand Indians at Wounded Knee had resumed the ghost dance with warlike accompaniments. He said that they were formed in a regular war dance and swearing vengeance upon the whites for conspiring to stop them. The Indian said that they had resolved to resist interference to the last man. Little Wound, who left the agency yesterday with protestations that his men had stopped, was in the dance with all his band. The friendly Indian further said that the Indians are still burning the houses of settlers and killing all the cattle they can find.

Little Wound is in, and reports his inability to control his band in the interests of peace. The cavalry expects an order to march tonight to the Rosebud camp on the Porcupine, although Gen. Brooke is reported as being in favor of waiting until the Sixth Cavalry reaches Fort Meade, and troops can be placed at Forest City, above Pierre.

Boe issue passed off yesterday without exciting features. One hundred and ninety steers were turned loose. Hawk Head and Big Horse, reliable Indians, reported that the Indians who had stolen by a band of 200 Indians that had deserted from Rosebud a few hours before and rushed off to join 1300 other Indian deserters, who are now only fifteen miles north of Pine Ridge agency.

When Hawk Head and Big Horse discovered that their families were missing they immediately set out in pursuit of the deserters. The latter refused to give up the families. The policemen begged and entreated the deserters to give them back their wives and children, but only got curses and threats of their lives. Before they got away from the band of the Indians, it was said, "God will sell the Indians at Pine Ridge, that we are part of 1300 other Rosebud Indians now near Pine Ridge, and from now on we are going to kill every white person we meet, and if soldiers come we are ready for them."

It is predicted by the Bee correspondent that within thirty-six hours the troops will be ordered to disarm or shoot down the marauders, and when the troops do start after them the end will not be Custer affair. The move will undoubtedly be made under cover of darkness, and by a forced march. The attack and finish will both occur between the rising and setting of the moon. The scene of action will be some fifteen or twenty miles northeast of the agency.

A Bee special from the Rosebud Agency says: About fifty young bucks are out raiding the country, destroying deserted settlers' houses, schoolhouses, etc. This gang can break up any time after a raid, or, by allying themselves with hostiles can destroy all of the fodder or run off all of the horses on the reserve.

A MISTAKE IN COUNTING.

New York's Population Understimated by 125,000.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—[By the Associated Press.] A special from Washington to the Telegraph says that the census office is now engaged in adding up the returns for New York, and an astonishing result will be produced. The correspondent asserts that the final calculation will show 125,000 more people in New York City than are now in. It is said that the figures "anomalous, singular." The correspondent adds: "In other words, the announcement upon which the apportionment is expected to be made is 125,000 short of what the census enumerators showed."

BROKERS ASSIGN.

B. K. JAMISON & CO. OF PHILADELPHIA FAIL.

The Firm Has Been in Trouble for Some Months—Its Capital Tied Up in Outside Enterprises.

By Telegraph to The Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—[By the Associated Press.] The failure of B. K. Jamison & Co., bankers and brokers, was announced on the Stock Exchange this afternoon. The firm closed their doors and made assignment to Samuel Justine Thompson. No statement of liabilities or assets is yet made. The suspension resulted from the failure of the firm to realize upon assets. It has been known for the past few days that the firm was in a shaky condition through the stringency of the money market, coupled with the failure of Barker Bros. & Co., but there were hopes that financial aid would come in time to avoid suspension.

Wednesday, at the close of business, it was said that this assistance would be available this morning, and as business was resumed as usual, it was believed that the trouble had been passed.

Two thousand shares were sold on the Stock Exchange this afternoon for the account of Jamison & Co. The firm always had a high reputation, and the opinion is general this afternoon that the failure will not be a bad one, but that other moneyed institutions will be more affected. The firm was the Philadelphia correspondent of a large number of country banks, and it is said that the failure was hastened in some degree by these institutions calling in loans to the firm and closing accounts in consequence of the present straits in financial circles.

It was reported this afternoon that Jamison lost considerable in the St. Paul and Minneapolis Mortgage and Trust Company, which organized last year. The firm really has been in trouble several months and has been trying to extricate itself from the difficulty. During the money squeeze, in August, it came very near going under, but it was helped out ultimately to go on. For some time the company broke away from its old associates and became independent, having transactions with Jamison & Co., believing that the firm had too much money tied up in outside enterprises.

The head of the firm said this evening that he could not now make a statement, but if pushed by their creditors they would probably not be able to resume. By outside people the liabilities are variously estimated at from half a million to a million.

Walker &amp; Son's Schedules.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Schedules in the assignment of John T. Walker, John W. Combe and Joseph Walker, composing the firm of John T. Walker, Son &amp; Co., were filed to-day. They show liabilities of $2,000,000; nominal assets of $1,233,000, and actual assets of $1,010,000.

PUSHING THE WORK.

Southern Pacific Branches in the San Joaquin.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—[By the Associated Press.] The new branch line that President Huntington of the Southern Pacific Company recently ordered to be built in the eastern portion of the San Joaquin Valley is now engaging the attention of a large force of men, and tract is being laid at the rate of two miles a day. A force of men is now at work a few miles south of Los Banos. The other branch that the company is building in the valley from Oakdale to Merced is more than half completed, and will be finished in four weeks.

THE GIRL WHO IS TOO ENGLISH.

The Blonde Matron and She Who Is French from Top to Toe—Luxurious Richness in Plush and Furs.

TELEGRAPH 12:30—FOR THE TIMES.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—[Special Correspondence of THE TIMES.] When the morning is bright and one can buy a great glorious bunch of chrysanthemums for ten cents, then life for a brief period seems worth living. One can forgive one's pocketbook for refusing to yield the commercial equivalent of the last water-color sketch or Japanese jug that tempted, and resign one's self to philosophic contemplation of the tall girl in a puce-colored cape who is so desperately over-English that as she disappears in a Broadway shop one takes involuntarily a step after, in fanciful expectation of hearing her call for the "slender women's size" in the pink-and-cream ribbon-run undergarments she looked at in the window.

"In London," one can imagine her saying in Manhattan accents, "we have only two sizes, the slender and the over-size. To measure by inches is so odd you must excuse my not understanding."

One can't like the too-English girl. She has pursed her mouth into conventionality, and tilted her hat with its spiky feathers down over her nose. She has deliberately taken all the beautiful American spontaneity out of herself to stiffen and straiten, till the "goose-step" herself could not move toward making her high-shouldered, great-collared cape and all—an Amazonian caricature of a grenadier.

What regal splendor is that of the blonde matron. Her tread is beginning to be a thought heavy, but in that

Parma violet worn by a pale blonde woman. Her eyes look straight before her, and she makes no motion to lift her rich, heavy draperies. On the front of her cloak is set a square plastron of violet plush bordered with dark marten fur. Below this vest a short pointed bodice front of the regal material is laced across with cords. Her high flowing sleeves are caught back to the elbows. Broad bands of fur and plush give long straight lines to her trailing skirts, and as the footman shuts the carriage door one sees the last of a set, unsmiling face under a broad felt hat from which droop violet plumes.

Shoulder cape with deep points.

And so they pass and repass—shoulder capes cut in deep points like silken stockings, sauced with high round feather collars and rose-colored silken linings, tan coats severely plain, nose-fronted, and double-breasted; long shawls cloaks of striped plush in green and gold, fur-trimmed mantles of dahlia and myrtle and deep royal blue, shaggy storm serges warm with hairy bear's fur, jackets of leopard skin, capes of saffron cloth lined with cream—all types of luxurious richness, with their tall wired collars, their fluffy ruffs and bows, their magnificently wrought Russian arabesques and passementeries, their enlivening bits of color and cheerfulness to brighten the drear fog and grayness of November mornings.

And when the curtain dropped on "Israel" and the first night of German opera with a glinted there was an evening and a matinée, pulled tight, a bare, pump shouldered. There were women gracious, graceful and superbly costumed, in low-cut robes of velvet with heavy gold embroidery and many glistening jewels. The woman who was nearest me had hair that was light brown and a color so fresh and clear it rivaled any rouge an unjust critic might have mentioned in such a connection. Few women could have worn her cloak of silvery silk like the "moonstone's watery bain," and fewer, wearing it, could have stood in the glare of the electric light with a high Medici collar of many passementerie touching their ear lobes and challenging the hunt for imperfections. There was a cloak of white camel's hair, lined with faint blue plush and edged up with rose and about the silk ruff with rose and white ostrich feathers. There was another of pale pink matelasse, with gold, silver, copper and black mingling in the superb embroidery that bordered it from throat to hem.

Gowns as well as flowers made a riot of color at the chrysanthemum show. On the first evening the two debutante daughters of Sir Roderick Cameron were out in jacquemint-red toned down with Russian gray. In box sat a matron in cardinal velvet with petticoat of pinkish ivory satin. A striking frock had a Louis XV. bodice of sky-blue brocade, and a flat skirt edged about the foot with blue ostrich feathers. A quiet toilet was a dress of bottle-green silk with wide black skirt ruffles and black embroidery. It was had a doublet and a jaquemette, trimmed with roses and black feathers. The most attractive combination was, perhaps, a gown of changeable art silk worn with a redging of striped silk of roses taffeta. The hat was rose-colored broadcloth with pompon gray feathers.

Three years ago I got injured in the hip, a sprain of the joint, and was unable to dress myself, and was drawn by my feet, hands and face became swollen. I could not rise from a chair and could scarcely walk and was obliged to have my water drawn from fifteen to twenty times a day. My friends considered I would not last many days. Then—three months ago—came need for years to come. I could not weigh as much as a raven. Dr. Wong said I was afflited with one of the 14 kinds of kidney disease.

THE MOUNT WILSON RAILROAD

Is Likely to Be Built Soon — Notes and Comment — A Batch of Brevities — Locals.

The statement published in yesterday's TIMES relating to the proposed early extension of the San Gabriel Valley Rapid Transit road to the summit of Wilson's Peak, was naturally read with interest by Pasadenaans. The petition now before the Council for a right-of-way would seem to bear it out.

Several gentlemen of town who are well-posted on matters pertaining to the road, say that the prediction that the road will be built to the top of the mountain inside of fifteen months will prove true. The execution of the project will be of incalculable benefit to Pasadena. With a hotel on the peak and railway communication therewith, Pasadena will be the starting point for, probably, the finest railway ascent in the world, and it will grow and prosper accordingly. With direct connection with some seaport town the tourist will in winter be able in a day to enjoy both a winter and a summer climate; he can take a comfortable salt water bath in the morning and throw snowballs in the afternoon. What other country can boast of such varied attractions?

NOTES AND COMMENT.

It is to be hoped that the society for the extension of University teaching will organize a branch in this part of the country. The purpose of the society is to bring some of the advantages of university teaching and of systematically directed study within the reach of those who cannot go to college, and especially of those who are occupied in daily tasks and must work out their education for themselves. The system is capable of indefinite development and of doing a vast amount of good. The society is growing rapidly in the East, but as yet has done nothing on the Pacific coast. The nearest approach we have to it are the Chautauqua circles, but it is impossible for them to cover the same general field.

A noted physician pays high tribute to Pasadena's climate and favored situation. He says it is one of the best places in the world for consumptives, and admits that for a large class of patients it is far more beneficial than the much-boasted climate of Colorado, and this in face of the fact that he is a Colorado man himself.

The news comes straight from headquarters that the San Gabriel company will build a road up Wilson's Peak within the next fifteen months. Nothing better could happen to Pasadena.

The Cross road is doing a big business. The morning and evening trains are crowded.

Splendid weather for horseback riding and all forms of outdoor exercise.

The nights are growing cooler. Cheery hearth fires are in order.

BREVITIES.

Rev. Dr. Trew was up from San Gabriel yesterday.

The Star House has been located on West Union street.

Crown Chapter enjoyed another banquet at the Acme last night.

Nearly all the new stations houses on the Cross road are under roof.

City Clerk Campbell's letters are now addressed with a U. S. Grant prefix.

Company B went to Los Angeles yesterday evening and participated in a battalions drill.

The Cross Road Station Park should be better lighted. On a dark night it is hard to find the paths.

Mr. and Mrs. Bolles arrived in town yesterday. They contemplate remaining here during the winter.

Gov. elect Markham went to Santa Monica yesterday instead of on Thanksgiving, as before announced.

Rev. Dr. Chichester of Los Angeles, will preach in the Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Marshall Wotkyns gave a picnic party to a few friends in Wilson's Cafion Thanksgiving day.

Tickets are selling well for the entertainment to be given tonight in the Opera House by the local dramatic club.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cates returned from a short wedding trip Thursday evening. They will make their residence on Arcadia street.

The Cross-road train leaving Los Angeles at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon had three cars filled with passengers. Business is rapidly increasing.

At a meeting of the Board of Trade yesterday morning, a resolution was passed to the effect that Los Angeles is the place to hold the State election.

Lieut. Hamilton has received an invitation for Company B to attend a hop to be given next Thursday evening by the Signal Corps, First Brigade, N. G. C. in the Seventh Regiment, Armory, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Sellar, colored, of Los Angeles, a friend of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Prince of this place, has received a telegram announcing the sudden illness of her father, who lives in Austin, Tex., at the ripe age of 111 years.

Sergt. Bangs with Lieut. Meldier of Los Angeles will go to Elsinore to-night to get into an S. V. camp, which will have twenty-seven charter members. It is hinted that the sergeant also contemplates a visit to Riverside.

The Thanksgiving number of the Youth's Companion contains a well-written story by John F. Barnes of this place, entitled "Coy and the Bear." Mr. Barnes is a contributor to several magazines. The article referred to is highly illustrated.

The Valley Hunt will hold a meet today. The riders will meet at 9 o'clock at the intersection of Orange Grove avenue and Columbia street, and will hence move in the direction of the Puente Hills. Lunch will be served at 1 o'clock at the Mareno ranch, below the Raymond.

A meeting of the Charity Organization Society was held yesterday afternoon. The case of Edward Hoffman, the bricklayer, who was so seriously injured by a fall from the Stanton House some weeks ago and whose family are in destitute circumstances, was taken under consideration. Mr. Masters was appointed to investigate and report upon it. No other business of importance was brought up.

HIGH TRIBUTE

To Pasadena's Climate by One Who Knows.

Among the recent visitors in town was Dr. Solly of Colorado Springs, a physician of considerable note. Dr. Solly has made a special study of climatology as applied to pulmonary diseases. On this his first visit to Pasadena, he expressed himself as highly pleased with the climate. He regards the situation of the town as exceptionally good and went so far as to say he believes it to be one of the best places for consumptives in the country. A large class of patients who cannot stand the climate of Colorado, he says, would be benefited here. Dr. Solly is soon to write a book on matters climatological for a large publishing firm in Philadelphia.

THE PEOPLE'S STORE.

The Approaching Close of Our Business Year.

A RUSHING TRADE IN NOVEMBER

PEOPLE'S STORE, Saturday, Nov. 29, 1890.

There were no marriage licenses issued yesterday.

But little is doing about the City Hall, at present, politics monopolizing everything.

There were thirty-six real estate transfers yesterday, the total consideration being $47,631.

Major Hilton will preach at the church corner of Sixth and Sixth streets, Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

The Board of Supervisors at their session yesterday allowed the demands of the officers of the boards of election.

Business is virtual at a standstill in police circles, and the judges are having an easy time of it.

Ex-officer Jim McHugh's little daughter fell yesterday afternoon and broke her arm. The cast was set and the child was resting easy last night.

There are undelivered telegrams at the office of the Western Union Telegraph Company for Colton Packing Company and Mrs. State May.

Supervision by the Chamber of Commerce yesterday to "California on Wheels" consisted of nine cases of fruits, vegetables and printed matter.

Notie Harris and Little Shoemaker, two ladies of rather shady reputation, were arrested yesterday on warrants charging them with it.

Commodore Rogers promises to introduce some needed reforms in the conduct of his office, and says that the people will have no cause for complaint against him.

There will be a band tournament, excursion, free picnic, horse, bicycle, foot and other races, ball game, balloon ascension, tug-of-war and other sports at Monroe yesterday.

The regular monthly meeting of the Newsboys' Home Society will be held today, at 2:30 p.m., in the new building, No. 319 East First street. A full attendance is earnestly requested.

Charles E. Redick, the young lawyer who was reported to be in the room with Stevens, the man keeper of a fancy house on Alameda street, was seen on Broadway yesterday. He came up from San Pedro.

Isaac Norton has been elected secretary of the Metropolitan Loan Association, vice T. H. Ward, who resigned on account of his election as City Clerk. Mr. Norton is a business man of long standing, and an old resident of this city.

The "workers" in the recent county campaign are doing some tail rustling trying to "catch on" for the next two years, and the lives of the officers are made a burden to them in trying to keep out of the way of impudent deputy-sewers.

Sam Levi of No. 454 Commercial street writes THE TIMES, asking that the statement be made that the "Sam Levy, a chronic, noted in your yesterday's issue as one of the Thanksgiving guests of the city-holiday, is no relative, friend nor acquaintance of his."

H. B. Fasig of No. 531 Broadway avenue yesterday left THE TIMES office a copy of the Laramie Gazette, of date May 31, 1886, the leading article in which is a poem on Sunday laws. The paper is in a good state of preservation and is an interesting relic.

A meeting of the Grand Council of Hygeia, Banonia parlor, No. 192, Native Sons of the Golden West, will be held this evening at 8:30 o'clock at No. 175 North Spring street. A number of invitations have been issued and a most pleasant time is anticipated.

A. Howard has been appointed assistant secretary of the Park Commission, a d will have a desk in the Mayor's public office. He will also receive a salary. Mr. Robert C. Moore, park, who formerly performed the duties of the position, served without compensation.

People cannot be too careful about leaving movable articles exposed. A tramp yesterday stole a wicker rocking-chair from a front porch on Seventh street, near Pearl. He was captured by the police, however, while trying to sell it, and was locked up, charged with petty larceny.

There was a four-round bout at the rooms of the Los Angeles Athletic Club last evening between Messrs. Chapman and Guthrie for the light-weight club medal. The contest was in favor of Mr. Chapman. This little struggle was preceded by a three-round bout of fancy sparring between Messrs. Liddell and Long.

Counselor McLain is a great friend of the orphans, and has issued an invitation to the Protestant and Catholic to attend the performance of Prof. Herrmann's Transatlantic at the Grand Opera house this afternoon. The invitation has been accepted, and the little ones will enjoy the excellent performance.

The "McKinley Bill."

Does not affect Coffees, but it requires very little intelligence to know that Coffees roasts on the spot, where consumed, must be preferable to any that is roasted thousands of miles away from where it is consumed. I have given this branch of my business the chief attention for over twenty years, selecting the best green Coffees and roasting them day by day, just as my trade requires. By this plan we have built up a trade on roasted Coffees second to none on the Coast.

H. JEVINS, Grocer, Tea and Coffee Dealer, 135 and 136 N. Spring St.

Grand art exhibition by the Singer Manufacturing Co. An exhibition of all the latest novelties in art needle work and home decoration will be given during the coming week at their sal room 210 South Broadway.
